BATTLE FOLLOWS REVOLT THAT SHAKES ALL SPAIN

Bloodshed Ends Valencia Uprising;
City Ruled by Military Law;
De Rivera Acts in Crisis

PARIS, Feb. 3. (AP)—Information which eluded the Spanish censorship at a dozen different points today disclosed that the revolt against the dictatorship of Premier Primo de Rivera has broken out in the city of Valencia with resulting bloodshed and the proclamation of martial law.

The Paris Journal received word that part of the Valencia garrison attempted to liberate former Premier Jose Sanchez-Guerra from the military prison where he has been held incommunicado since he surrendered to the authorities following collapse of the general revolt several days ago. These troops were opposed by others with resulting bloodshed.

Premier Primo de Rivera conferred today for two and a half hours with King Alfonso regarding the new developments. His majesty signed several decrees to tighten governmental control. By one of these a special temporary court was created under the jurisdiction of the Ministry of the Interior but presided over by an army officer in order to establish closer relations between the police and the military on questions affecting both members of the army and civilians.

TRIOLE IN VALENCIA TOLD OF AT BORDER

SPANISH FRONTIER. HENDAYE (France) Feb. 3. (AP)—Reports of serious trouble at Valencia, Spain, with clashes that resulted in the loss of life have been trickling across the frontier by the way of Barcelona for the past several days. The action of the Spanish government in dispatching Gen. Sanjurjo to Valencia with extraordinary powers, is regarded in some quarters as official corroboration of the reports that the situation is grave. Information reaching the frontier indicates that a large percentage of the garrison at Valencia is in open rebellion, while some remained apathetic and a few actively loyal.

MADRID IN NOTE TAKES COGNIZANCE OF REVOLT

MADRID, Feb. 3. (AP)—An official note passed by the censor today said that in view of the conflicting reports of grave disturbances in Valencia the government has decided to take energetic means to control the situation.

The note added that the first step was the conferring of the inspector-generalship of the third region, which includes the Valencia district, on Director-General Sanjurjo, who is chief of the civil guard.

The powers invested in Sanjurjo provide him with authority to dispose or substitute in whatever instances he deems best those persons now in civil and military posts. The note said: "Loyalty of the garrison at Valencia is excellent, and the forces on duty are obeying the government's orders. This faithfulness is believed to be a correct interpretation of the general feeling. It is felt necessary to take these steps to insure not only order, but public tranquility, which is so necessary at this time."

DOG MOURNS FOR DEAD CHICKEN

Fire Department's Mascot Loses Friend Found at Brawl

YORK (S. C.) Feb. 3. (Exclusive)—"Bull," the wise bulldog who is the mascot of the fire department, is overwhelmed with grief. His friend and protegee, a 3-week-old chick, upon whom he lavished care and affection, is dead, and "Bull" refuses to be comforted. The chick was picked up by firemen at a fire three weeks ago and brought to City Hall, where it was quarantined near the stove.

"Bull" adopted the orphan and would stand by the box and gaze kindly at the chick and its feeble "cheep" would always bring him hurrying to its side. Gone is the box behind the stove, and "Bull" stares at the vacant spot in silent sorrow.

A dispatch from Madrid says that Premier Primo de Rivera held a series of conferences with King Alfonso this morning after which he received newspapermen and informed them that believed measures already taken would soon clear up the situation at Valencia.

The dispatch said the Premier was concerned about what had actually taken place at Valencia than was of general tendencies. A series of occurrences which he termed isolated but yet important. As evidence that he was not unduly alarmed, the Premier told the reporters that a football championship to be played at Valencia will not be interrupted.

SIGNS NEW DECREES

The Premier announced the dispatch added that King Alfonso had signed several new decrees including one creating a special temporary court presided over by a military official under control of the Department of the Interior for the purpose of establishing closer relationship between the police and military officials in questions affecting civil order.

The revolt in Valencia follows uprising on January 29 at Ciudad Real, about 100 miles south of Madrid. At dawn on the thirtieth the government announced the surrender of the mutineers and later Primo de Rivera appeared before the assembly and announced the revolt was at an end.

Less serious disturbances were reported at the same time from other points, including Valencia, Barcelona, and Cordoba.

ARTILLERY LEADS

The artillery corps, virtually abolished several weeks ago as a separate branch of the army, appeared to be a leading factor in the revolt. The "Revolution" of promotion by merit is believed to be the actual cause since officers of the army always have fought for promotion by seniority.

About the time the revolt was announced as an end, Jose Sanchez Guerra, former Premier of Spain, was arrested. He had been in voluntary exile in France since January, 1927, as a protest against Premier De Rivera's refusal to restore full constitutional guarantees, but had recently returned.

During his stay in France Sanchez Guerra was several times accused of taking part in plots engineered by Catalan Separatists and a warrant had been issued for his arrest should he re-enter Spain.

Bolling Cargo Transferred in Record Time and She Heads Back to Dunedin

BY RUSSELL OWEN

BAY OF WHALES, Feb. 3. (Exclusive)—The Bolling is hauled down on the horizon on her way back to Dunedin, having been unloaded in five and a half days which is probably a record for the Antarctic, so much heavy and bulky material was taken from her. After the barrier broke the remainder of her load was put on the City of New York and our deck is now piled high again with airplane parts, drums of gasoline, coal, crates of eggs and meat and all sorts of things.

We even have about twenty cases of oranges and grapefruit in a room below and it is odd to see a man sitting on deck in a world of snow eating an orange. Fruit never tasted so good.

ICE GOES OUT

The New York is now tied alongside the bay ice again, but never camp than ever before. The ice went out from the first pressure ridge which was about three or three and a half miles long. This will make the haul much shorter. The ice seems to be firm, but the men are using ropes whenever there is any doubt about it, linking themselves together so it will be easy to pull out anyone who goes into the water. The warnings which Commander Byrd has issued upon his men since arriving here, his insistence on their using ropes was driven home by the breaking of the barrier.

If the men on top of the barrier had been roped together as he had instructed them, none of them would have gone overboard. Only one man, before the barrier broke, had seen a man working near the edge without a rope and had ordered him to tie himself to a stake. The other man, who was minutes later this man was hanging over the edge at the end of his rope and was easily pulled up again.

WIFE TALKS FREELY

As for her, there was no hesitancy about talking freely. The whole thing she described as an attempt to steal the money belonging to her and Jackson, "the chief," as she affectionately called him. The command that brought them to Washington, she said, was just another phase in the long fight she has made to protect her rich husband and prevent scheming politicians and crooked courts in Oklahoma and elsewhere from grabbing his money.

She indicated that her testimony before the Senate Public Lands Committee will be highly sensational and that she will level direct charges of conspiracy involving a United States Senator in a plot to turn Barnett and his wealth and his back so that his fictitious heirs, some forty in number, may claim the estate and "split" with those who accomplished the robbery.

She said shortly after she married Barnett and took over her job of looking after his interests, she was offered $200,000 if she would leave him and get a divorce so that he would be at the mercy of those seeking his riches.

She pictures herself as a loving wife who takes her marriage seriously, loving her husband for his own qualities, and caring little about his money except to keep it out of the hands of "the same kind of man" as she is, she said, who is preying generally on the Indians who have money.

PROMISES EARFUL

"I have facts and dates with me this time," she declared, "and the Senate committee is likely to hear some things it doesn't want to hear. I have attempted to tell certain things before, but was always left out of the course. That happened when Senator Frasier of North Dakota questioned Jackson and I, and I tried to give him some real information, but each time he would lead me off on something else. This time I'm going to tell my story and they're going to listen."

From that point she spun a story of intrigue and plotting that would grace the realm of the most engrossing fiction.

"I'm going to stick with Jackson Barnett as long as we both live," she declared, "and you may be sure that they're not going to get anything away from either of us so long as I am on the job. I am not easily intimidated or defeated. They have even tried to kidnap and kill me, but I have met them at every move. The Senate committee will get an earful this time."

CALIFORNIA COLORS TO DECORATE WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3. It was announced by the inaugural committee today. In selecting California colors the committee in charge of inaugural arrangements followed the custom of using the colors of the State producing a new occupant of the White House.

SERMONS ASKED TO HELP HOOVER

Church Council Urges Talks for Prohibition

"Uphold Administration in Dry Fight," Text

Buyers to be Warned Against Aiding Lawbreakers

NEW YORK, Feb. 3. (AP)—A statement on behalf of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America tonight said that the council has appealed to pastors of the United States to preach sermons on March 3, next, urging support of the Hoover administration in prohibition enforcement.

"The Hoover administration, pledged to the support of prohibition, assumes office on March 4," said the statement. The Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America appeals to pastors throughout the country to take occasion on Sunday, March 3, the Sunday before inauguration day, to speak to their people, urging them briefly or at length, urging total abstinence and voluntary observance of Federal and State laws for the suppression of the liquor traffic.

"The Federal council recommends that this appeal be made on three grounds: First, out of loyalty to our country and its institutions; second, in order to stem a tide of lawlessness which has manifested itself in the past; third, because of the power of sobriety in a people and the very great social importance of a successful handling of an evil, the menace of which is recognized by every nation and which all are struggling to control."

"The Federal council believes that men and women who are members of churches and who are not will respond generously and unselfishly to these considerations. Those who do social drinking will stop it if it rightly approached and for the reasons mentioned. They also will give their voice and personal influence to the support of national and community officials who are joining hands in an effort to make the Eighteenth Amendment effective."

"The Federal council believes that the bootlegger may thus be largely put out of business by stopping his patronage."

DOG TIED TO PEG

"Running along the north wall and part of the east wall of this room is a low masonry, or seat, and in the southeastern corner of the room is a sloping socket which once contained a wooden peg. It seems fairly obvious that the room was intended for the use of the temple guardians, whose duty it was to prevent laymen from mounting the steps to the courtyard and who doubtless had a fierce hunting dog to help him in his work, the dog perhaps having been tied to the peg in the corner.

"Every year's work at Beth-Shan brings forth new surprises. There has been no season on the site that has not furnished much new information of all kinds—information which is slowly but surely enabling us to draw from the mists of antiquity a great deal of the ancient history and religions of the land of Canaan."

With the conclusion of the season's work in Beisan, Mr. Rowe left for this city and is expected by the university museum authorities to arrive here in a few weeks.

Roman Neptune Has Ice in Beard

ROME, Feb. 3. (AP)—Italy still is "merry Italy," but the sun has little warmth.

The temperature in Rome today was 21.2 Fahrenheit and icicles formed on the whiskers of the figure of Neptune in the public fountain in the Piazza near St. Peter's. The streets virtually are deserted and open horse-drawn cabs stand idle in the squares.

Alien Charges Net Sea Captain

SAN JUAN (Porto Rico) Feb. 3. (AP)—Capt. Andres Velez and three others of the yacht Calumet are under arrest here on charges of bringing aliens from Cuba into Porto Rico. Velez, said to be Porto Rico's only sea captain, was given a public welcome when he arrived home at Aguadilla several weeks ago, and it was some time before the government investigation was begun.

Twelve aliens, most of them Italian nationals, had boarded the yacht at Havana, according to the officials.

Salvation Army Commander
Shows Improvement

Returns to Home After Long
Time at Southwold

May Appear in Person Before
Next Ouster Session

LONDON, Feb. 3. (P)—Gen. Bramwell Booth, whom the High Council is attempting to remove as head of the Salvation Army, caused general surprise by making an unexpected journey by road from his seaside cottage at Southwold to his home at Hatfield Wood. Not long ago the aged general was hardly expected to recover from the serious illness from which he had suffered for months.

Today was a beautiful sunny day although quite cold. The general did not appear to have suffered by his journey. Commissioner Kitching, one of the leading supporters of Bramwell, told the Associated Press tonight that it was only after anxious consultation between physicians that they consented to his removal. The general expressed pleasure at finding himself at home again after his long convalescence at the seashore. His health has shown a decided improvement during the last few days. It is understood on good authority that Gen. Booth has sent a reply to the high council accepting their invitation to be represented before them. As the result of his show of strength today there is even the possibility that the general may appear personally, provided that the council will agree to fix the date for the meeting some time ahead so as to give him time to recuperate his strength.

Commissioner Hay, president of the high council, had heard nothing tonight, however, of any request on the part of Gen. Booth to be given further time in order to appear personally before the council.

Farmers Rescue Plane Refugees

SALT LAKE CITY (Utah) Feb. 3. (P)—A National Park Airways plane, piloted by R. T. Elmore, and carrying Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Anderson and their daughter, Shirley, 2 years of age, from Pocatello, Idaho, to Salt Lake City, was forced down by a heavy fog in several feet of snow, twenty-nine miles northwest of Daniels, Idaho, shortly after 9 a. m. today.

The occupants of the plane were marooned for several hours. A party of ranchers came to their rescue with a sled and took them to Malad, where they boarded a train for Salt Lake City.

Senator Answers Letter of Stockholder

NEW YORK, Feb. 3. (P)—Frank D. Brewer, president of the Glen Ridge (N. J.) Trust Company, today made public a letter from Senator Walsh of Indiana in which the Senator said he feels that Col. Robert W. Stewart should be called to account by the stockholders of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana for interest on the uncalled coupons of the Continental Trading Company bonds.

Mr. Brewer, who is a stockholder in the Indiana company, had written the Montana Senator asking his opinion of the merits of the effort of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., to oust Col. Stewart as chairman of the board of directors of the company. Senator Walsh was chairman of the Senate committee which made the inquiry into the Teapot Dome oil leases, during the course of which Col. Stewart's connection with Harry Sinclair through the Continental Trading Company became known. The bonds he refers to were the profits from that company's sale of the oil from the Teapot Dome lands to various oil companies. The share of Col. Stewart was turned over to the Standard of Indiana, but for some time the coupons had not been clipped as they matured. It was following the Senate inquiry that Mr. Rockefeller asked Col. Stewart to resign and on his refusal started the campaign to remove him at the regular meeting March 7.

The letter from Senator Walsh to Mr. Brewer follows:

STRATHMORE, Feb. 3. (P)—What is believed here to be the first organization of its kind in the United States has sprung up with the formation of a woman's club by twenty Indian women on the Tule River Indian reservation. The club was formed under direction of Mrs. William Hilger of Strathmore, San Joaquin Valley district chairman of Indian welfare for the club federation.

copy of the report of the committee on public lands of its investigation of the transactions of the Continental Trading Company. A copy of the testimony has also been sent you.

"It has been a matter of surprise to me that the chairman of the Standard Oil Company has not before this brought suit to compel the payment by Col. Stewart of the coupons maturing in June and December, 1923, were exchanged for Liberty Bonds of equal amount, but that thereafter none of the coupons were cashed. Had they been cashed the amount thereof could have been invested in other securities or utilized in the business of the company, which presumably borrows and pays interest. In any event it seems impossible to escape the conclusion that Col. Stewart is indebted to the company to the amount of interest at the legal rate in the State of Illinois on the coupons not so cashed. From the time they came due until he eventually turned them over to the company, it seems to me that he was never invested with any authority by the company to turn into Liberty Bonds the coupons he actually cashed, and that he is answerable for the difference between the amount of the interest thereon at the legal rate and at the rate carried by the bonds."

DIVIDENDS CITED

Mr. Brewer said that in his letter to Senator Walsh he had called attention to the large dividends that had been paid by the Standard of Indiana during the chairmanship of Col. Stewart, and that he told the Senator it placed the stockholders in a difficult position.

LARGE STOCKHOLDER DECIDES TO BACK STEWART

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 3. (P)—Louis Boreman of the Boreman Drug Company of Pittsburgh, holder of 6200 shares of stock in the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, today announced in a telegram to John D. Rockefeller, Jr., that he will support Col. Robert W. Stewart, whom Rockefeller seeks to remove as chairman of the board of directors of Standard of Indiana.

"I have a proxy you want me to sign in order to help you depose and defeat Col. Robert Stewart," Boreman said in his message. "When I realize my investment in this company means more than $500,000 to me, I feel it is proper and fitting in defense of myself and my family to know as much as possible about this matter before taking action. But since you have left the country, thereby making it almost impossible for me to communicate with you, I feel there is only one position for me to take."

Boreman said he assumes Rockefeller will "admit that Col. Stewart, as head of this corporation, has handled it well and to the benefit of the stockholders for the past ten years."

"Mr. Rockefeller," the Pittsburgh man added, "you should remember that the other stockholders do not have as much money as you do. You should also consider most carefully what it would mean for the chairman of the board, the president and board of directors which would include the finance and executive committee suddenly to resign because they failed to receive a vote of confidence from the stockholders."

Boreman said resignation of the officers "would be nothing but a calamity." In conclusion, he stated he has "never received a word from Col. Stewart" in regard to the matter.

TRAFFIC ON BLACK SEA PARALYZED

Soviet Vessel Conveying Leon Trotsky Forced to Seek Refuge From Storm

CONSTANTINOPLE, Feb. 3. (P)—A raging blizzard combined with a terrific Black Sea storm has paralyzed inland traffic and forced hundreds of boats to seek shelter, including the Soviet, Krasnyyof, aboard which rumor here says, is Leon Trotsky, exiled former commander of the Red army.

Agents of the owners of the boat announced the craft, which sailed from Batum on January 29, had found refuge in a Black Sea littoral, but declined to name it, as well as to confirm or deny that Trotsky is aboard.

They also declined to express an opinion as to when the ship will arrive here, and all information on the subject was refused by both Turkish and soviet officials.

The storm was the most severe in many years, the snow falling to a depth of two meters in some parts of Stamboul. Many houses were unroofed by the wind. Many shops and all theaters were closed, and officials ordered all schools closed for three days.

Numerous distress calls from unidentified vessels on the Black Sea were picked up, but relief agencies were helpless to attempt any rescue.

SENATE READY FOR NAVY VOTE

Cruiser Bill Likely to Pass
Today or Tomorrow

Defeat for Coolidge Looms
on Time Clause

President Loses Support on His Plea for Delay

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3. (P)—The naval construction program comes to a vote in the Senate this week—tomorrow night or Tuesday—and President Coolidge faces almost certain defeat in the opinion tonight of Senate leaders on his appeal for elimination of the clause requiring that the fifteen cruisers and one airplane carrier be laid down before July 1, 1931.

Passage of the bill, approved a year ago by the House, is predicted freely by both its Senate supporters and opponents and the controversy has narrowed to the demand of the President that he be permitted to determine when the ships shall be built.

Mr. Coolidge lost on this issue in the House and the closing hours of debate yesterday found one of his right-hand adherents, Senator Fessenden of Ohio, vigorously opposing the measure. Previously, Senator Watson of Indiana, another administration leader, had taken up the cause of the measure's supporters against the President for an immediate start on the proposed cruiser construction.

PARTY LINES FADE

Party lines have faded in the battle over the time clause, leaders of both sides dividing on the issue. Under an agreement reached last week, debate will be limited sharply after 4 p. m. tomorrow. This is expected to bring the measure to a vote by nightfall or at least by Tuesday. Because of the number of amendments to be acted on, some doubt was expressed today whether the bill could be voted on before Tuesday.

America's Navy in fact, will demand most of the attention of Congress this week. Tuesday, the House resumes consideration of the measure appropriating the $347,000,000 asked by the Navy for next year's expenses. Leaders scoffed today at reports that foes of the cruiser bill will seek to prevent appropriation of funds for their construction in the event the authorization finally is approved. It is pointed out that if there are enough votes for passage of the authorization there will be enough votes to approve the money to build the ships. Any attempt to filibuster the appropriation will be met by a cloture petition restricting debate, it is said.

VOTE DEMANDED

There was no sign of a break today in the deadlock between Senate and House conferees on the $24,000,000 increase in prohibition funds which the Senate added to the deficiency appropriation measure. In the first meeting of the conferees yesterday, the Senate spokesmen demanded that the House be given an opportunity to vote on the increase.

House representatives on the conference are adamant against any attempt to bring the House to a record vote on the proposal. The objection of Secretary Mellon to the dry fund amendment of Senator Harris, Democrat, Georgia, is expected to have its influence eventually on administration Senators but there were no evidences of a break today. The conferees will resume consideration of the measure Tuesday.

TARIFF HEARINGS

While Congress slowly is working toward the wind-up of this session, the House Ways and Means Committee will go busily ahead this week with its consideration of the tariff revision bill to be offered in the approaching Hoover Congress. Hearings will be held this week on the hemp, wax and lime schedules, and then on the important wool duties.

This week also is expected to bring two real fighting issues before the Senate. Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, is ready to ask the Senate to pass judgment on his report condemning the Interior and Justice Departments for their handling of the Sinclair contract for Salt Creek Royalty Oil. The lands committee rejected the report.

Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri, also is prepared to call his special campaign fund investigating committee together to consider a final report on the inquiry begun almost three years ago into the campaign expenditures of Senator-elect V. C. of Pennsylvania.

The House Military Affairs Committee will resume hearings on the Madden bill proposing leasing of the Muscle Shoals properties to the American Cyanamid Company to be used in the production of fertilizer and power.

Harry Smolen, Formerly
in Show Business Here,
Said to Have Lost $100,000

NEW YORK, Feb. 3. (P)—Harry Smolen said by members of his family to have lost $100,000 in business reverses in Los Angeles recently, committed suicide by shooting himself in the head today in the bathroom of his Brooklyn home. He was 40 years of age.

The body with a bullet wound in the right temple was found by Mrs. Smolen, who heard the report of the shot. Police say that clutched in the man's left hand was a letter from a daughter Florence, now in Los Angeles, stating that "much as I would like to go to Yale, I would be content to go to New York University."

Mrs. Smolen explained to police that her husband had written to the daughter in the West stating that because of his financial reverses her educational hopes and those of three other children would have to be limited.

Police said Mrs. Smolen told them her husband had been in the show business in Los Angeles and that they had come to New York only about two weeks ago.

DYOTT PARTY NEARS FAWCETT'S LAST CAMP

Savage Chief Escorting Searchers Through Wilds for Trace of Lost Explorer

In the ninth installment of his story of the search for Col. Fawcett, missing explorer, Commander Dyott tells of finding what he believed to be further evidence that Fawcett was killed by Alokue, the Indian chief whom Dyott induced to show him Fawcett's last camp.

BY G. M. DYOTT

(Copyright, 1929, by North American Newspaper Alliance.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 3. (Exclusive)—The Suyas are a repulsive tribe to meet. There is no mistaking them because they insert large circular blocks of wood in the lower lip and pierce the lobe of the ear with sticks. Instead of cutting their hair in a neat bob after the manner of the Anauquas they let it grow long and shaggy.

An interesting diversion interrupted further conversation. Rapatz, one of Alokue's unmarried sons, along with one of Cabazala's boys appeared in the doorway with a pair of huge wooden horns which were used in ceremonial dances.

Upon these they made the most extraordinary noise ever heard by man. They waved the instruments up and down while they blew, stamping their feet in perfect unison. They were dressed in fantastic feather ornaments. Suddenly they made a dash outside the house closely followed by a girl holding Rapatz's shoulder with her left hand. Off they went across the open space and disappeared in the house opposite.

SIGNS OF WEDDING

The music, which was suggestive of the drumming of bagpipes, continued and in a few minutes out they came again, passing on to another house until each had been visited in turn by the three. During the entire performance the music never ceased and the most perfect time was maintained. The significance of the proceeding was beyond me unless it pertained the coming marriage of the girl with one of the boys. When it was all over, the older men collected out of doors and indulged in a dance of their own. They formed into line and, stamping their feet, slowly pivoted around in a circle singing as they did so.

In the evening a more elaborate affair was staged inside the house. The dancers visited each house in succession, sometimes making two or three visits. The horns were used again and while the men formed into two lines, kneeling in the house the women were drawn up in two rows at right angles to the men. The latter held their hands outstretched and stamped their feet; the women rested one arm on the shoulder of their adjacent companion and swung one foot back and forth in time to the music.

When all the dancing was over the two doors of the house in which I was sleeping were closed and everyone retired to hammocks. There were some eighty people in Cabazala's establishment, all of whom were related to each other.

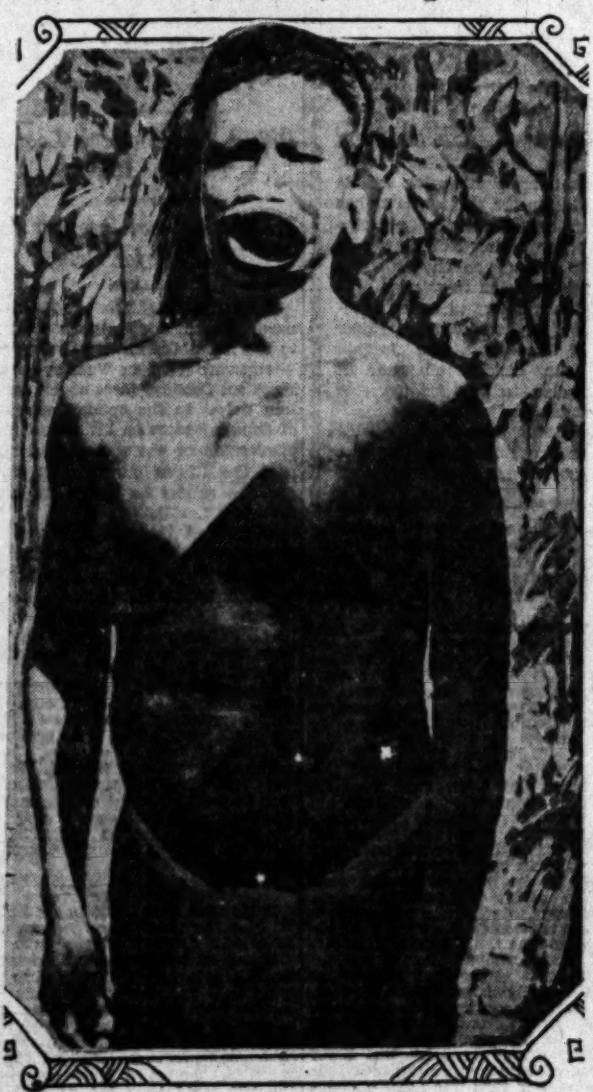

LITTLE PRIVACY

Each family group kept by itself, their hammocks being slung together; two or three people sometimes occupying a single one. In many instances hammocks would be slung immediately over each other, two or three tiers at a time. A married man generally occupied a hammock all to himself. It would be suspended fairly high off the ground. Immediately below him his wife would sling hers, sharing it with the same man. It would be only privacy afforded by means of large palm-leaf curtains that could be hung up or taken down as desired. As a general rule these were not used.

Each group had a fire to itself which was kept burning all through the night. Sometimes there would be two or three. It is very cold all through this country as soon as the sun goes down and it was for this reason the Indians were so eager to get clothes.

A single blanket was hardly sufficient to keep me warm, so I was not surprised to see the naked Indians getting up continually to warm their shivering bodies by the fire. At 6 o'clock I awoke from my slumbers cold and stiff on the hard floor of the maloca. The flickering flame of the small fire shed feeble

New Regulations Covering Entry Into Country Now Being Enforced by Bureau

(Copyright, 1929, by North American Newspaper Alliance.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 3. (Exclusive)—The new regulations covering the entry into the United States of planes flying from airports in other countries went into effect February 1 and were promptly enforced by the United States Customs Bureau.

The new rules place the entry of passengers and merchandise by plane on the same basis as arrivals by boat and freight. Flying in contraband products, such as alcoholic beverages from Canada and Mexico, a practice which has been more common in the past than is generally known, will prove increasingly difficult under the new regulations, it is believed.

The rules provide that aircraft arriving in the United States from another country must make the first landing only at an official airport of entry, except in case of a forced landing, or unless special permission is obtained from the American Commissioner of Customs.

The pilot in charge of the plane must report his arrival immediately to the nearest customs officer and must produce a manifest, signed under oath by him describing the baggage or freight carried. The plane must not depart after the landing or discharge its cargo without permission of a customs officer.

In case of a forced landing, the person in charge is not allowed to remove any baggage or merchandise or allow any passengers to leave the plane, except for safety or preservation, until a customs officer has been notified and permission obtained from him.

The flight of a plane from a foreign port to an airport of entry on a trip that is not scheduled must be reported to the customs officials at the destination before the flight starts and in time to allow the officials to meet the plane.

CRIME DENS RADIATE RUIN

European "Schools" for Crooks Put New Fear in Police by Unbelievable Audacity

(Copyright, 1929, by the Chicago Tribune.)

BERLIN, Feb. 3. (Exclusive)—German police today will start trial of the leaders of the "Everest Club" in an effort to trail a section of Berlin's underworld by its ramifications which spread from the eastern tip of Galicia and Ukraine to crooks' dens in New York and Chicago.

One finds the old-time pirate days' romances, medieval retribution, hatred and feuds combined with modern efficiency systems when one follows the way into the secret dens of international crooks in Berlin.

PICKPOCKET SCHOOL

A world seminary for pickpockets is just around the corner from police headquarters, close to the Grenadierstrasse Muehle, the abode of newly arrived underworld recruits from Lemberg, Lodz and other eastern towns. With its neat index files with the records of the pupils it looks like any other trade school drawn up with efficiency and precision. The seminary is a man-sized doll dressed in a suit.

The newest equipment of the up like a human with the pockets bulging with rings and equipped with an electric alarm signal. The pupil must appropriate deftly the contents of the doll's pockets. If he is clumsy the bell rings. If it does not ring he advances to the first practical class. This means he is taken by the subway pickpockets under their supervision and teaching.

The second class and three final classes include hotel and hotel parties. After their lesson the future pickpockets swap yarns in a saloon "to a big stein."

THEY CELEBRATE

Here the star pupils of all nationalities celebrate when they finally have succeeded in obtaining their visa to proceed to America, their ultimate goal. They also drop in here when a specially audacious stunt forces them to seek a quiet retirement in their native heathens. The small ones do not hesitate for their colleagues in trouble if they have been successful themselves.

The pickpockets' salon is scarcely different from scores of others frequented by the poor but honest workers in the neighborhood. But go a step further to the gangsters' headquarters and one finds mysterious cellars lighted by the shadows of trembling candle light, cellars which as a minute's notice can be transformed into courtrooms where the gangsters sit in judgment over those suspected of treachery and mete out cruel punishment. The crooks' code is as tyrannic as the despots of the Middle Ages, and the organization has defined the police.

CROOKS' CLUBS

The gangsters are united by clubs, the most of which in turn belong to a general association spread over the whole country. The police know that in Berlin alone there are thirty or forty gangsters' clubs. The large clubs steer clear of criminal enterprises. The small ones do not hesitate to turn a trick when the club's funds are low. Many of these clubs are registered, legally, their other purpose being to provide entertainment for their members as well as an education and to help them when in trouble. What is to be feared when a crook is caught by the police, the club provides a lawyer, supports his family while he is in jail and helps him when released. For "educational" purposes the clubs have boxing teachers and wrestling teachers on their pay roll as well as dagger and knife experts and shooting masters.

This systematic training of gangsters is new. As long as the clubs were merely gathering centers for dark elements the police did not object because when they were bunched together they were easier to control. But now that they systematically have organized their training the police find it necessary to intervene.

DRIVER DIES IN BUS PLUNGE
Several Passengers Injured as Stage Skids Over Embankment When Lights Fail
REDDING, Feb. 3. (P)—Riding into a drenching mountain storm a Pickwick passenger stage lost its lights through a short circuit as the stage was rounding a curve four miles north of here at 2 o'clock this morning. The driver, E. P. Hoffman, skidded the machine when he attempted to apply the brakes and was carried to his death when the machine went off the road a moment later and down an embankment against a tree.
With him were twelve passengers, bound from San Francisco to Portland, Or., and they were forced to smash their way through the rear of the machine, which burst into flames soon after the ignition system went dark.
DRIVER TRAPPED
The tree in the path of the falling bus averted a fifty-foot plunge down the embankment, but Hoffman was trapped between the trunk and the steering gear.
Sensing the explosion of the gasoline tank, which came a few minutes later, Hoffman shouted to Timothy Wright, who was leading the passengers in an attempted rescue.
"Get away before you're burned,
too; it's no use."
Then a word of affection for Mrs.
Hoffman, who resides in Redding,
was called to Wright.
LIST OF INJURED
F. A. Wolfe, the Dalles, Or., cuts and bruises in the legs and arms.
Timothy Wright of Dunsmuir, burned in the head and arms.
W. P. Bequin, Los Angeles, cuts, bruises and minor burns.
Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Arlow of Victoria, B. C., suffered bruised legs.
Ester and Annie Arlow, daughters of the Arlows, severely shaken.
David O'Lafferty of Los Angeles, badly cut in the face and head.
The stage left San Francisco at 4:30 p.m. Saturday.
Officials of the Pickwick Stage Lines were in Redding today, arranging care for the injured and transportation for those who escaped from the wreckage unhurt.

Only One Salesman
Should Talk at a Time
Out of a college class of 50 students, only four could tell off-hand whether the seeds of an apple pointed upwards, downwards, inwards, or outwards.
Commonplace facts get overlooked.
This perhaps explains why an occasional advertiser overlooks one of the most singular and important facts about the Sunday newspaper.
The Sunday newspaper is unique in that it has the exclusive newspaper attention of its readers for a full day!
No noon-time editions! No afternoon papers!
No six o'clock "extras!"
Here is one day when a single salesman holds forth—from breakfast to bedtime!

Why should this be so?
All week long people accumulate an interest in fashions — sports — theaters — finance — EVERYTHING!
Then along comes a day when they have lots of time.
Naturally, they want a full Sunday meal. They must "catch up"! They are hungry for reading matter.
But the cost of providing such a meal is staggering.
In the case of the Sunday Times, it runs yearly into millions of dollars.
Smaller publications drop out.
The Sunday newspaper must do the work of many

Many Los Angeles advertisers, taking this and other facts into account, have adopted the following policy:
They cover the week-day market through the week-day issue of the Los Angeles Times, thereby getting the largest home-delivered circulation that money can buy. Once a week they go after a grand
"clean-up" through the incomparable family coverage of the—

English Form Flying Clubs
TO INCREASE AVIATION INTEREST
LONDON, Feb. 3. (Exclusive)—Government subsidy of a gigantic enterprise to popularize aviation was revealed today in the Air Ministry white paper announcing an agreement with National Flying Services, Ltd., for a ten-year grant, enabling the latter to establish airdromes and flying clubs in London and provincial centers.
A £50 grant will be made to each club member qualifying as a pilot during the first three years and subsequently £35 after this period.
Payment is dependent on the company's fulfillment in its undertaking to provide or obtain directly or indirectly, twenty new airdromes and eighty new landing grounds within three years.
The plan envisages an enormous extension of unofficial flying activities including 100 new landing grounds, lock-up airplane garages, and twenty-three air parks equipped with aircraft instructors, hangars, workshops, clubhouses and service facilities for the owner pilot.
To encourage the pleasure of flying air displays and pageants will be given. Membership in any club confers honorary membership in all others, with the full reciprocal service. Headquarters will be at Feltham, where ground already is procured and it is planned to equip 100 machines instead of the present present flying clubs, officials point out that the scheme co-ordinates to support them.
Capt. F. E. Guest, M. P., and former Secretary of State for Air, who sponsored the "Guest scheme,"
is named as chairman with Col. L.
A. E. Edwards, former chief technical adviser to the civil aviation department, as managing director.
The board of directors will consist of Col. Master P. Hemhill, who is chairman of the Royal Aeronautical Society; Sir Alan Coochman and J. G. Peel, who is chairman of Manchester and Counties Bank.

'TIPSTER' SCHEME FOR 'HOOKING'

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 3. (P)—The California State Corporation Commission announced today that it has joined in the nation-wide campaign being conducted by the security commissioners and better business bureaus against "tipster sheets."
During the past year, from information obtained by security commissioners in the United States,
"tipster sheets" have been growing until now there are more than 45, 000,000 people in the United States receiving them in some form.
"The 'tipster' sheets are a real menace," said Howard C. Ellis, assistant commissioner of corpora-

All Field Rodents BAKERSFIELD, Feb. 3. (Exclusive)—Three crews of men are starting the annual fight waged by the Kern horticultural commissioner against the inroads of the ground squirrels and other rodents of the county. Every cultivated area in the county will be treated before the year is over, it was announced. The land will be treated only when there is infestation. By the time the spring rains are over, poisoned grain will be substituted for the sulphur gas, which is now in use.
Agricultural damage caused by ground squirrels is so great that state laws have been framed for the purpose of enabling the authorities to take legitimate action to obtain control of areas infested.
Burford Fox of the commissioner's office stated today that pump guns loaded with liquid carbon bisulphide gas will be used until the dry weather sets in, when poisoned grain will be employed.

The Story of the World War XXV—The Epic of the Marne (Continued).

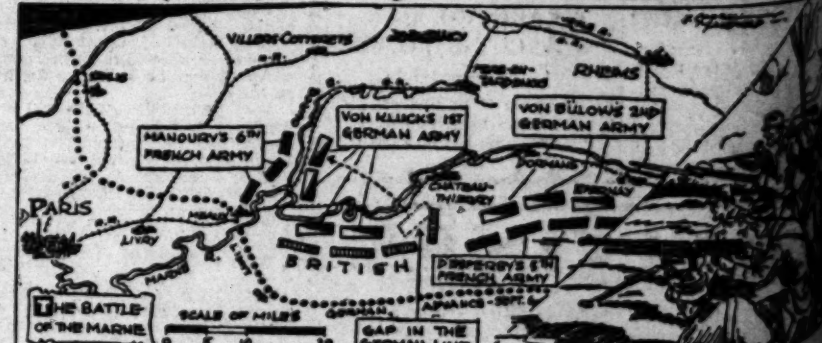

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

SEPTEMBER 6, 1914. THE BATTLE OF THE MARNE REACHED THE CRITICAL POINT. GEN. MANOURY'S 6TH FRENCH ARMY KEPT UP ITS FIERCE ASSAULT UPON THE GERMAN RIGHT WING UNDER VON KLUCK ON THE OURG. WHILE EACH SIDE FOUGHT DESPERATELY TO OUT-FLANK THE OTHER.

WEST OF CHATEAU-THIERRY, THE BRITISH, HAVING DRIVEN OFF A SMALL FORCE OF UHLANS THAT CONFRONTED THEM, ADVANCED STEADILY INTO THE GAP IN THE GERMAN LINE BETWEEN VON KLUCK'S AND VON BULOW'S ARMIES. THE GERMAN, LACKING RESERVES TO CLOSE THE BREACH, NOW WISHED FOR THE FOUR DIVISIONS THAT HAD BEEN TRANSFERRED FROM THEIR RIGHT WING TO THE EAST PRUSSIAN FRONT.

AS THE BRITISH APPROACHED THE MARNE BRIDGES, THE FRENCH 5TH ARMY, NOW LED BY GEN. D'ESPÈREY, HURLED ITSELF UPON VON BULOW'S EXPOSED RIGHT WING AND DROVE IT FROM THE TOWN OF MONTMIRAIL.

FURTHER TO THE EAST, AT ST. QUENTIN, FERE CHAMPENOISE, A NEWLY CREATED ARMY, THE 6TH, UNDER GENERAL FOLL, STOOD ITS GROUND, AND THWARTED THE BOLD SMASH EFFORTS OF VON BULOW AND VON FAYDOUT TO SMASH THROUGH THE FRENCH CENTRAL TOWNSHIP—THE EPIC OF THE MARNE CONTINUED.

Edward Trims La Cumbre in Team Match Play

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

Harry Presler, westerner, and Southern California team-mate, Miss Marjorie Kirkham, will play in the annual midwinter invitation tournament, which starts over the south course of the Los Angeles Country Club today with a eighteen-hole qualifying round.

The last-minute announcement of Mrs. Presler's failure to appear yesterday in the Women's Auxiliary of the Southern California Golf Association, who are sponsoring the event.

Mrs. Presler's absence will be felt, as she is not only a favorite of the spectators, but also the defending champion. Miss Kirkham will also be missed. She has been up to Mrs. Presler's eyes in a dramatic finish, and has since advanced until she now ranks with the best in the Southland.

BRILLIANT FIELD

The unfortunate absence of the San Gabriel stars, however, will not back to the field. Among those who have been up to Mrs. Presler's eyes in a dramatic finish, and has since advanced until she now ranks with the best in the Southland.

And 10,400 spectators—the Olympic capacity—will buck the doors to see the argument that has focused heavyweight attention this way.

SHARKEY, STRIBLING PLAYFUL

Fighters Go Swimming Instead of Training for Miami Encounter

MIAMI BEACH (Fla.) Feb. 3. (P) Wary of overtraining, W. L. (Young) Stribling, and Jack Sharkey, principals in the Madison Square Garden heavyweight elimination bout here, February 27, today continued their swimming and golfing program and declined to set a date for opening of workouts.

Both the Georgia acrobat and the Boston sailor have spent the first days of their four weeks remaining before the bout in the ocean and on the golf links. Neither has shown any disposition to worry about the outcome of the fight since arrival last week.

Jack Dempsey, playing his first role as promoter for Madison Square Garden, today continued to placidly watch the fighters.

Not even the 4200 gallery seats some of the boys have been writing about will be available for the rush when the doors open at 5 o'clock tomorrow night. A total of 644 of these seats reserved for women and their escorts went on sale one morning last week, and they were gobbled up in two hours' time. That leaves only about 3500 for the 6400 gallery gods to battle over. The higher-priced seats sold out a week ago.

It seems that no big heavyweight fight will ever be staged here or anywhere else without underground gossip over the choice of the referee and the judges.

This one has been no exception. Commissioner James Woods spiked all possible rumors over the appointment of the referee by naming Abe Roth, a Hollywood business man of unimpeachable integrity and an official of the highest type.

ROTH APPROVED

The selection met with the complete approval of both of the principals and the managers—Charles Emanuel for his son and Joe Smith for Loughran.

Now the buzzing has started.

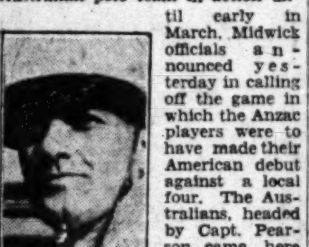

SANGOR TO MIX WITH CANZONERI

Chicago Promoter Expects Record-Breaking Throng at Wednesday's Show

CHICAGO, Feb. 3. (P)—Joey Sangor of Milwaukee and Tony Canzoneri of New York, who are out gunning for the world's featherweight and junior lightweight titles, clash at the Coliseum Wednesday night in the headline ring attraction of the week in Chicago.

The bout is scheduled for ten rounds to a decision at 128 pounds. Promoter Jim McLean expects to match the winner either with Bud Taylor of Terre Haute, Ind., the former bantamweight ruler, or Tod Morgan, junior lightweight champion.

field yesterday was such that it was impossible to stage a game. The Anzac riders leave tomorrow for Del Monte, where they will play in the high-goal series which is now being staged at that resort.

Walter Dillingham and Edward Baldwin, two Hawaiian stars, were to have played with the Australian four here. They will accompany the Anzacs north for the Del Monte series.

Polo hits a lull locally this week. The action in the multi picture for the next week will all take place at Del Monte, where the leading high goal players of the country, headed by Tommy Hitchcock, the game's greatest star, will battle in the Pacific Coast open championships.

The polo spotlight will be turned back on the Midwick Club on the 17th inst., when the incomparable Hitchcock and his Rancho San Carlos riders return here for a three game series with Midwick and other nationally known teams.

Besides playing against the Midwick Big Four, Hitchcock will be seen against the Del Monte and Sands Point squads. Winston Guest, the only nine-goal player in the game and a team-mate of Hitchcock in the last international games with Argentina, will play with the Del Monte four in this series. Averill Harriman, another team-mate of Hitchcock's on the American Big Four, will also be seen here in the high-goal series. Harriman is very likely to play with the Hitchcock team along with Willie Tevis, Jr., and George Gordon Moore. The Sands Point four will be composed of Hopping, Cowdin, Schwartz and Sanford.

Sanford is the best mounted polo player in the world. He recently paid $22,000 for Jupiter, an Argentine pony. This is the highest price ever paid for a polo pony. Jupiter is on his way to the Midwick stables at the present time.

The next game on the Midwick bill will be staged Sunday when two club teams clash in a special match tilt.

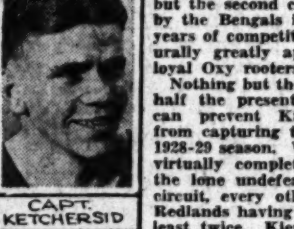

EDDIE KIENHOLZ COACHING OCCIDENTAL ATHLETES TO SECOND TITLE OF SEASON

BY BRAVEN DYER

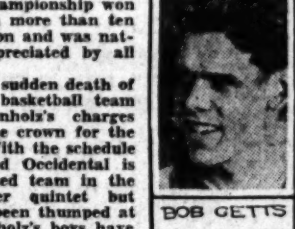

This fellow Eddie Kienholz is just getting started, you might say, as a college football coach and here he is about to win his second major championship of the school year. The efficient Occidental mentor coached the Tiger gridder to the Southern California Conference title last fall. It was but the second championship won by the Bengals in more than ten years of competition and was nationally greatly appreciated by all loyal Oxy rooters.

Nothing but the sudden death of last year's basketball team can prevent Kienholz's charges from capturing the crown for the 1928-29 season. With the schedule virtually completed Occidental is the lone undefeated team in the circuit, every other finalist but Redlands having been thumped at least twice. Kienholz's boys have only to defeat Pomona and Whittier to walk off with the title.

Kienholz won the grid championship in his first year as varsity mentor, a feat of no mean ability. Generally a coach takes a season or so to get adjusted but Eddie went right out and bagged the title in his maiden attempt. He was defeated by Caltech in a (Continued on Page 10, Column 3)

GORCHAKOFF RETAINS CITY TENNIS CHAMPIONSHIP BY DEFEATING JACK DE LARA

Ben Gorchakoff, Occidental College tennis star, again triumphed in the Los Angeles open tennis championships at Harvard and St. Sixty-second streets. The lanky Tiger net ace defeated Jack De Lara in the men's singles to retain the city crown for a third consecutive year. The final scores were 3-6, 6-4, 6-4, 6-4.

De Lara, past municipal city champion, put up a great fight for the championship. Taking the initial set by virtue of his consistent fore and backhand driving, Gorchakoff continued his lead into the second frame in which he led until games reached 4-3. Here the defending champion hit his stride, broke his rival's delivery, and ran out a love game to annex the second set.

Gorchakoff took his post at the barrier in the third and fourth sets, which he won by similar scores of 6-4, behind deep and forceful drives, while

Mack had hoped to match either Jimmy Maloney who defeated O'Kelley here Friday night, or Ernie Schaf against Schmeling, but could not reach an agreement as to terms.

BUD TAYLOR AND SINGER TANGLE IN GARDEN FRIDAY

NEW YORK, Feb. 3. (P)—Tonnage figures on the New York fistic chart will show a decided decrease this week.

After two heavyweight shows in succession, Madison Square Garden will feature featherweights this Friday night. Al Singer, up and coming Bronx youngster, tackles Bud Taylor, the Terre Haute terror, in the feature ten-rounder.

Singer has been coming along by leaps and strides during recent months although he was held to a draw by Tony Canzoneri, ex-king of the 126-pounders, in his last start.

In Taylor the Bronx youngster will be facing a veteran grown wise in the game, a heavy puncher with either hand. Taylor, now a full-fledged featherweight, has been fighting in better form in recent weeks than he showed while he was generally recognized as king of the bantamweights.

Then along came just enough trouble to deny anyone the crown, while Burke slipped back a stroke to the Armour, former national open champion, for next best showing at 221. Armour wrought a great comeback, shooting a 68 in the morning, four below par, to place (Continued on Page 10, Column 6)

Nichols, King and Krenz on College Squad

NEW YORK, Feb. 3. (AP)—With the Olympic Games as an incentive to keen competition, few of American athletes were able to win more than one place on the team. Only Lasseotte of Puente, who won the 100-yard dash, and Nichols, King and Krenz, who won the 200-yard dash, were able to win more than one place on the team.

CHARLEY BORAH

who retired from competition after the Olympic Games; Joe Ray, sensation of the year at the longer distances, and Frank Titterton of the Millrose Athletic Club, winner of two national championships, placed twice on the team. Claude Bracey of the Institute, Texas, scored a double in the sprint on the college team and Stanley Stokes of Baton Rouge (La.) High School won both hurdle places on the scholastic team.

BARBUTI NAMED TWICE
Ray Barbuti, America's only winner of a first race at the Olympic Games, is placed on the college team as well as the national aggregation along with Phil Edwards of Iowa, Ed Hamm of Georgia Tech, Sabia Carr of Yale, Edmund Black of Maine, Bob King of Stanford and Kenneth Doherty of Detroit City College. Frank Wykoff, California schoolboy sprint star, ranked the unusual distinction of making both the all-American team and the scholastic team.

In nearly every case the winners of the national championships received Mr. Ferris's nomination. Leader among those who broke the reign of the titleholders is Joe Ray, who was given the marathon place over Clarence De Mar, winner of the Boston marathon, national championship holder, making his first start at the long distance. Ray finished third. Later he won the Long Beach race and was the first American to finish in the Olympic marathon.

His Olympic victory as well as a consistently fine showing gave Sabia Carr the place in the pole vault although the national championship went to Lee Barnes of Southern California. Hahn is placed on the team at 1000 yards as well as the half-mile, although Ray Conger of the Illinois A.C. won the title indoors.

KUCK OVER BRIX

John Kuck, Los Angeles A.C. star and winner of the Olympic shot put, is given the call over Herman Brix of the University of Washington, who beat him out in the trial. Creth Hines of Georgetown, winner of the javelin throw title, also yielded to Charles Harlow of the Los Angeles A.C.

Horemans to Defend His Cue Crown

NEW YORK, Feb. 3. (AP)—The world's 182 ballroom billiards crown goes on the auction block during the next ten days with Edouard Horemans of Belgium, the present titleholder, and five rival bidders in the field for it. Play in the round-robin tournament of fifteen games starts tomorrow night at the Level Club here with a match between Horemans, the master of masse and line purse, and Kinney Matsuyama, the pitted Japanese holder of the world's junior title. Completing the field are the two American hopes, Welker Cochran and Jack Schaefer, son of the "Old Wizard" of the same name; Felix Grange, the big Frenchman, and Eric Hagelacher, German champion.

about the judges. Heretofore the Boxing Commission has left this matter entirely up to the club staging the fight. And lacking any advice to the contrary it is presumed that the same procedure will be followed for this battle.

As general manager of the Olympic, St. Masters generally selects the judges the day of the fight.

He has used any pair out of perhaps a dozen on his list in the past.

All of them have proven capable and competent.

I don't recall the names of all, but just at random these come to mind—Ernie Clark, Snowy Baker, Ed O'Connell, James McKewen and Jack Pierce.

Clark, Baker and O'Connell are all Los Angeles Athletic Club men, champions of four boxing experts, and know the game from A to Z. McKewen and Pierce are theatrical men with a splendid knowledge of the game. And there is Tom Kennedy, the old heavy-weight fighter, who sits in ever and anon.

NO CAUSE FOR ALARM
I haven't the slightest idea who Mr. Masters expects to name, but I can see no reason in the world for anybody getting alarmed over the situation.

I can't recall any horrible robbery since the judging system went into vogue, and there doesn't seem to be any particular reason for expecting one this time.

Loughran wound up his training Saturday and will do absolutely nothing but rest until time to enter the ring tomorrow night. The light-heavyweight is long on shoring up recovery energy and has no intention of leaving any of the fight he may need against young Emanuel in the gymnasium before the fight.

Loughran is in his tenth year as a campaigner and Emanuel in his third, and naturally the younger man thinks less of the training period as a grind than does the veteran.

However, Loughran is on the threshold of what he considers his heaviest championship year. He is 26, the age at which Jack Dempsey won the title. Gene Tunney, who followed much the same trail as Loughran, was 28 when he captured the crown.

Emanuel wound up his training for his clash with Tommy Loughran yesterday with a stiff round workout with Bert Collins at Barney Dempsey's Manhattan Gymnasium. Collins made the San Francisco boxer extend his training throughout the three rounds. Emanuel finished fresh, however, and looked like he was in the pink of condition.

Armand will take a little leg exercise today and then knock off for the day.

The young Jewish heavyweight will follow his usual custom tonight of taking his mother to the theater before the fight.

Tommy Maloney and Pa Emanuel will also be in the party at the theater.

NURMI TO RUN IN MILE RACE

Wildermuth and Ed Hamm, former Georgia Tech star, now competing for the New York A.C. Hamm's reputation as a sprinter suffers only because of the fact that he is the world's greatest broad jumper. But in addition to his broad-jumping prowess, Hamm is one of the fastest sprinters in the country. He held the southern intercollegiate 100 and 220-yard titles last year.

SERIOUS OPPOSITION
Nurmi, who romped to another easy two-mile victory in the Boston A.A. games, makes his first start of his present tour over the mile route. Indications are that Paavo will have much more serious opposition than he has had so far. In the field against Nurmi will be Ray Conger, the American 1500-meter champion; Willie Goodwin, former national two-mile titleholder, who is attempting a comeback this season, and Galen Elliott of North Carolina.

Other outstanding stars entered in one of the thirty-four events on the program include Phil Edwards and Bernie McCafferty in the 1000-yard dash, special along with Jimmy Bell of Winnipeg, runner-up to Ray Barbuti in the Olympic 400-meter championship; Leo Lerman of the Boston A.A. in the two-mile mile-and-a-half race; Weems Baskin, Monty Wells and Frank Cuiel in the hurdles.

Two international relay races between the United States and Canada are on the program. The women's relay will be at 40 yards and the men's at the mile distance of a mile and a quarter.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF JUNIOR OLYMPIC GAMES STIMULATES GREAT INTEREST AMONG BOYS

BY BRAVEN DYER

Announcement of definite plans for the 1929 Junior Olympic Games at Southern California, which was carried in yesterday's Times, has stimulated great interest among boys of this region.

Last year more than 25,000 youngsters competed in this gigantic athletic event and this number is expected to be even greater this year.

While all entrants in the contest will be coached by their own individual athletic directors, Boyd Comstock, famous track and field coach, is to direct the games for the Times.

Comstock will, of course, lend his aid to all who desire it and his helpful hints will be given from time to time by this mentor and other authorities. These tips will appear in the columns of the Times.

It will be a few weeks before actual enrollment of contestants in the games will commence, but the boys who are interested in the games should start practicing for the five events which comprise the competition.

Through an outlet for the boys' energy under proper supervised instruction.

Last year Johnny Falcon, an Azusa boy, won the national championship at Atlantic City and was rewarded with a trip to the Olympic Games at Amsterdam.

South California, naturally, gained tremendous advertising as the result of Falcon's victory. The Junior Olympic Games are carried on in cities all over the country and Falcon's feat in winning the national crown was an achievement of no mean ability.

A Car for Every Home!

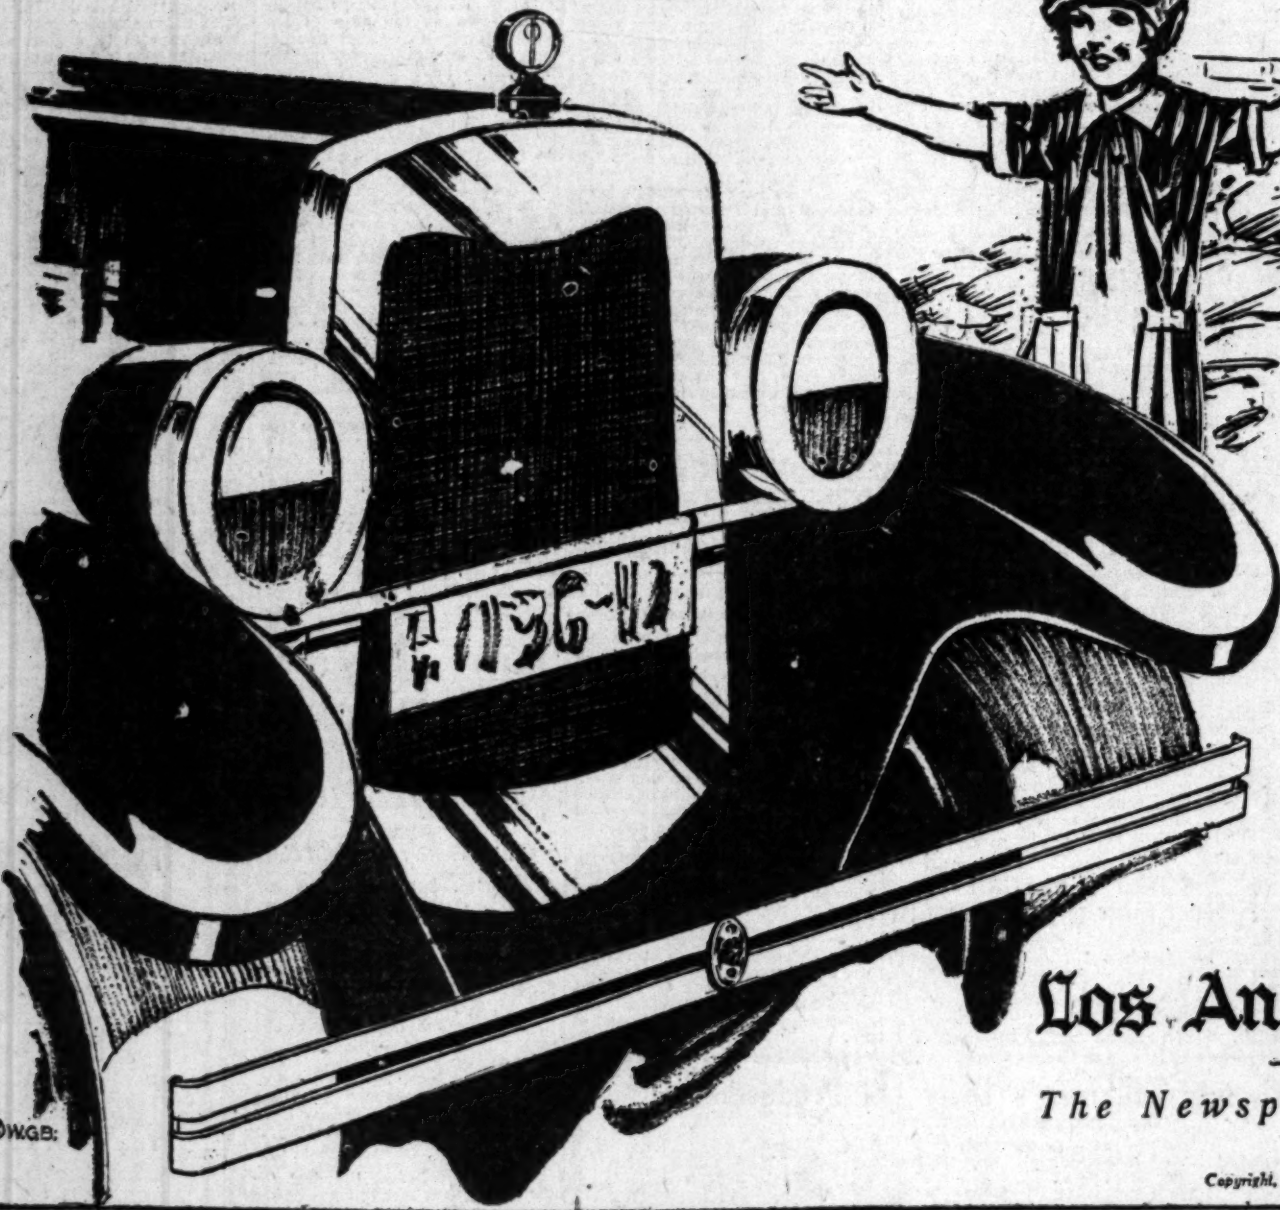

SOME authorities declare that the day is now here when every family can own one or more cars and appearances point that way.

The nation's annual output is now well over four million new cars—made and sold.

That in itself is remarkable. But important also is the fact that it creates the used car market, which, because of its policy and practice of reconditioning and satisfactorily demonstrating, is a great factor in the automobile industry and is creating opportunity to purchase serviceable cars at extremely moderate prices. And because at this time the new cars are delivered the best bargains in used cars make their appearance. A car is a real contribution to the development of the home. Every member of the family enjoys it and gets the benefit of the fresh air, the relaxation, and the educational opportunities it offers.

Measured by the service it renders, an automobile is an economy.

The initial cost can be whatever a man can afford, but the model he wants, in good repair and capable of unlimited service is available at special prices in the want ad "Automobiles" Columns of The Times. The cars here have seen service, but a demonstration will prove their service-giving qualities—and the statement that every family who reads The Times can own at least one car.

The automobile—safe and simple now for all to drive—has become so necessary a part of family and business life that multiple ownership is a real economy. When father is away at work with his car, there is another one for mother, and the children—and, of course, the opportunity was never better than NOW to buy to advantage.

PLAN TO WIDEN VENTURA FIELD

Two Interesting Wildcats Starting Shortly

Large East Side Area Taken by Federal Oil

Shell Planning Project on Northwest Lease

Within sixty days the Ventura-avenue field will witness two interesting wildcat projects which are calculated to extend the field both to the north and west and the east. The newest of these will be drilled by an operating company which is just entering the field for the first time. It is the Federal Oil Company.

This organization has leased from the Lloyd Corporation and Dabney & Lloyd approximately 2500 acres of the William Sexton and Joe Sexton ranches, lying along the east fork of Hall's Canyon, to the east of the Associated Oil Company's Lloyd No. 1 well. This big tract is the same block of ground on which the Milham Exploration Company prospect was abandoned two years ago and abandoned its Section No. 1 after drilling but about 750 feet and finding it little more than shallow showing.

INNOVATION PLANNED
The Federal Oil Company is reported to be in control of a new hydraulic bit with which it is said to be able to drill a straight hole to 8000 or 9000 feet in about one-half the time it takes to drill with rotary. This innovation will be tried out on the Sexton land, according to reports, and the hole is to start within the next two months. Federal is headed by A. L. Abrams.

The northwest extension wildcat is to be drilled by the Shell Oil Company on the Taylor-Lloyd lease. This tract lies on the west side of the Ventura River, in the bottom, and about due west of the Boba lease. The well will be known as Taylor-Lloyd No. 1 and is expected to spud in within a few days.

WILL TEST AREAS
These two projects will serve to test out areas in two directions while other operators are at work on the extreme south dip of the field, where the M. E. T. Oil Company, Associated Oil Company and Pacific Western Oil Company are now drilling Southern Pacific right-of-way strips and the Foster and Perry leases in the expectation of widening the producing area of the main field by several hundred feet.

GAS LINE START DUE TODAY

Buttontwillow-Kettleman Hills to Bay District Project Important Event in Central California

BY HOWARD C. KEGLEY

Today marks the beginning of a new era for the central part of the State, by the turning of the first shovel of dirt in the construction of a natural gas pipe line to extend from Buttontwillow Ridge and the Kettleman Hills to the San Francisco Bay district, where the gas will be distributed to consumers.

This morning the contractors will begin stringing truckloads of pipe along the route from Kettleman Hills to Buttontwillow Ridge, and the trenchers will follow in their wake, digging the ditch, welding the pipe and laying it in. The project, sponsored by the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, will cost from $13,000,000 to $16,000,000, according to reports, and is to be completed and ready to take gas by August 1. It is expected to take from 100,000 to 150,000,000 cubic feet of gas per day.

Connecting branches from the main trunk line will be laid across the San Joaquin Valley to Fresno a distance of about forty miles, and another from Milpitas, near San Jose, at the foot of the bay, to the east side of the bay, to serve Oakland, Berkeley, Richmond and other east bay communities. In addition smaller branches will be constructed, according to the plans, to serve communities along the entire length of the pipe line.

CAPACITY GIVEN
The line will be of sixteen to twenty-two-inch size, a sixteen-inch main running from Buttontwillow to Kettleman Hills, and a twenty-two-inch main from there north to care for the accumulated displacement.

The twenty-two-inch main will end at Mendota, where the branch to Fresno will angle off, and the remainder of the line to the north of Mendota will be of twenty-inch diameter as far as Milpitas.

A pressure of 400 pounds at initiation will obviate pumping, it is said, the gas flowing over the 2200-foot elevation at Panoche Pass without "boosting."

Saturday the Texas Company placed in operation at Kettleman Hills its $750,000 casing-head gas-line absorption plant which will run at its capacity of 40,000 cubic feet per day on the present flow from the Milham Exploration Company's Elliott No. 1 well. As new wells are drilled in this field Texasaco will add new units to the plant to handle the gas. The dry gas will be pumped to the company which is building the gas-trunk line to the bay.

MILHAM TO CELEBRATE
The Milham Exploration Company, which discovered the Kettleman Hills field, and inspired the great gas pipe line project by discovering dry gas on Buttontwillow Ridge and developing there seven excellent gas wells which are ready to turn about 75,000,000 cubic feet of gas into the line, will today celebrate the starting of the pipe line project by spudding in a new gas well known as Harris No. 1. It will be drilled on the east half of the northeast quarter of the northwest quarter of Sec. 8, 28-23. It is in close to the Kern wells which the company some time ago completed and capped.

Milham's Elliott No. 2 well at Kettleman Hills is setting pipe at 1587 feet. Its No. 1 well is drilling ahead at 700 feet and derrick is going up for Kennedy No. 1, an outpost to the northwest of the first well.

The General Petroleum Corporation is drilling out the plug in the bottom of its Ochsen No. 26-2 at 6775 feet. A 15 is going up for General's Ochsen No. 20-2.

George F. Getty, Inc., is setting casing at 900 feet in the Armstrong No. 1, two miles west of the discovery well.

The Petroleum Securities Company is grading site for its Felix No. 1 on Sec. 35, 21-17, northeast of the discovery well.

The Shell Oil Company has made a location for its Armstrong No. 1, 300 feet north and east of the southwest corner of Sec. 8, 28-18.

The Standard Oil Company is down 1100 feet in its No. 1 well on Sec. 1, 22-17, and down 3458 feet in its No. 81, on Sec. 11, 22-17. Rigs are up for its No. 61 and No. 41 wells, and roads and water lines are being built to its No. 36 and No. 87 wells.

DUNLAP GIVEN MERITED BOOST

Geologist is Made Richfield Production Manager

Started Career as Laborer in School Vacation

Helped to Subdue Largest of California Gushers

In the elevation of W. E. Dunlap from the position of assistant manager of production to production manager, succeeding John McKoon, who is resigning to organize a new producing company of his own, the Richfield Oil Company has placed its field operations in the hands of one of the best known and most popular oil men in Southern California.

"Steve" Dunlap, as he is known from fellows to Huntington Beach, has been in the business since 1910.

The highlights of the past ten days in the new gold mining district south of Kernville, according to O. B. Steen, of Los Angeles, just returned from there, include the mill test run on ore from the Keyes mine, which returned a net value in excess of $100 in gold per ton. This Big Blue mine ore, it is from the newly discovered ore body on the 600-foot level of the mine, and Mr. Keyes, general manager, is quoted as saying that sufficient ore has been developed at that point to keep the milling plant in continuous operation.

A small milling plant, Mr. Steen reports, has been installed at the Monarch mine, the product from which is expected to provide funds for further development. A sufficient ore tonnage is on the dump at the mine to keep the plant busy for some time to come, from ore blocked out as development work progresses.

Some new discoveries have recently been made in the district, according to Steen, but the owners, for some reason, do not desire publicity at the present time. The Big Blue mine ore, it is from the newly discovered ore body on the 600-foot level of the mine, and Mr. Keyes, general manager, is quoted as saying that sufficient ore has been developed at that point to keep the milling plant in continuous operation.

NINE WELLS STARTED IN OIL SECTION

Seven Credited to Kern County, One to Kings and One in Fresno

BAKERSFIELD, Feb. 3. (Exclusive)—Drills started pounding in seven new locations in Kern county and one new well started, and there was a new one spudded in in Fresno county.

The new San Joaquin Valley wells and their locations are as follows: Milham Exploration Company, No. 1, Sec. 28, 23-28; Kern River, No. 1, Sec. 28, 23-28; Kern River, No. 2, Sec. 28, 23-28; Kern River, No. 3, Sec. 28, 23-28; Kern River, No. 4, Sec. 28, 23-28; Kern River, No. 5, Sec. 28, 23-28; Kern River, No. 6, Sec. 28, 23-28.

GUSHER STRUCK
His father, the late P. E. Dunlap, a land attorney, was president of the Lakeview Oil Company. When the Union Oil Company pitched in and helped that organization complete the Lakeview No. 1, the latter broke loose and blew in at the rate of 80,000 to 90,000 barrels a day for months. The oil rate all over the country, being damped up in canyons wherever it was possible to build earth fills. "Steve" carried sacks of sand and shovels to the well, and he also "skinned" mules on the leases during vacation.

In 1915 he was graduated from Stanford University, in geology and mining, and shortly thereafter connected with the Chanslor-Canfield Midway Oil Company as a valuation engineer. During the latter part of 1916 he went over to the Santa Maria Crude Oil Company as a tool-dresser, and held that job down until late in 1917 when he was employed by the Union Oil Company as resident geologist in the San Joaquin Valley.

JOINS GENERAL

It was in 1918 that Mr. Dunlap went to the General Petroleum Corporation as a resident geologist and petroleum engineer for all divisions. He was with General for about eight years, leaving that organization in 1926, to join the Richfield Oil Company as a geologist. In October of that year he was made assistant manager of production for the company. Upon the resignation of Mr. McKoon from the production manager position of Richfield last week, Mr. Dunlap was advanced to fill that important position.

Speaking of production, and the performance of the old Lakeview No. 1 gusher, "Steve" says that when it was going at its best, the inhabitants of Fellows, eleven miles distant from the well, had to wear slickers and raincoats to keep the mist of oil in the air from saturating their street clothes.

SMELETER RETURN ON LION HILL ORE HIGH

The noted Lion Hill discovery, near Parker, made recent shipment of thirty tons of ore that returned $18,000 in gold, after treatment in the Magma smelter at Superior.

NATIONAL PORT BENEFITS TOLD

Findings of Government Experts Reviewed. Scope of Project Termed of Vital Importance. Despite Impetus Plans Now Languish.

BY CHARLES C. COHAN. The fact that the Army Board of Review which recently scrutinized the situation with regard to the greater harbor project here, declared that the conversion of the harbor of Los Angeles and Long Beach into a national port is tenable only on the governmental conditions of port and belt-line unity, emphasizes the importance of a national port. Backed by Federal interest and aid, such a national port as would be formed of the two harbors here, would have a commercial scope that neither harbor could attain singly. It would be a foremost naval station. It would be the natural site of extensive Army and Navy aviation plants and in other ways would be of local and national benefit.

CACTUS TO BE BEFRIENDED

Nature Lovers Organize to Halt Despoliation and Cultivate Varieties Facing Extinction. To save the great American cactus from becoming as extinct as the bison, 200 Southern California cactus connoisseurs have organized, it was announced yesterday, ready to fight despoliation with Spanish bayonets or legislation. The cactus is vanishing, assert these defenders of the desert bloom. What is worse, it is being uprooted and taken overseas by grasping foreigners who have found how to make salable merchandise out of the supposedly useless, spiny growths of the wasteland. Abroad and at home the cactus now is being made into everything from candy and rubber heels to goldfish bowls. This latter seems odd, as there are no goldfish in the deserts where the cactus grows.

In spite of such favorable preliminary as outlined by the Greater Harbor Committee, the project has languished noticeably since the first impetus given it, though the railroad unification in the Los Angeles Harbor area has been carried along to the point of threatening out various developments, according to Mr. Holden.

CACTUS TO BE BEFRIENDED

Nature Lovers Organize to Halt Despoliation and Cultivate Varieties Facing Extinction. To save the great American cactus from becoming as extinct as the bison, 200 Southern California cactus connoisseurs have organized, it was announced yesterday, ready to fight despoliation with Spanish bayonets or legislation. The cactus is vanishing, assert these defenders of the desert bloom. What is worse, it is being uprooted and taken overseas by grasping foreigners who have found how to make salable merchandise out of the supposedly useless, spiny growths of the wasteland. Abroad and at home the cactus now is being made into everything from candy and rubber heels to goldfish bowls. This latter seems odd, as there are no goldfish in the deserts where the cactus grows.

Holmes of Espree Declares City to Get Full Share of Expansion Program. Hale Holden, chairman of the executive committee of the Southern Pacific Railroad and one of the leading figures in the railroad world, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday with plans of an expansion program that is expected to be the most important attempted in twenty years. Details of the program are to be given in the next two months by Mr. Holden and other railroad executives of the Pacific Coast.

AMEE M'PHERSON CALLS A SELF HARDY CASE 'PAWN'

'It's All Politics,' Says Pastor on Arrival in Seattle Where She Fails to See Her Mother. Just a political pawn and the victim of a political feud—thus did Almee Semple McPherson describe herself and Superior Judge Carlos P. Hardy when interviewed in Seattle yesterday while en route to Vancouver where she plans to conduct a series of revival meetings.

Thus did she attempt to explain efforts to impeach the jurist because he accepted a $2500 check from Angelus Temple as a "love offering" given following the investigation of the titian-haired evangelist's disappearance and subsequent appearance at Douglas, Ariz.

Senate Committee Will Open Case on Combine; Meets in City Hall. The Los Angeles session of the State Senate committee investigating the report of a combination of cement corporations in California will open this morning at Room 53 in the City Hall.

The committee, since its session ten days ago at San Francisco, has had an investigator at work in southern counties, according to Senator Carter of Wilmington, the only local member, and this investigator has unearthed valuable testimony. Public officials in these counties, Senator Carter stated, are willing to testify that bids received from cement companies include identical prices.

Hawks Plans Take-off Today for New York

If weather conditions permit, Frank Hawks will take off today for New York in his attempt to lower the transcontinental record established by Col. Arthur Goebel, who covered the distance in eighteen hours and fifty-eight minutes. This announcement was issued yesterday from the office of the Lockheed Aircraft Company, builders of Hawks' plane, following a test flight to San Diego and return. His time, one way, was forty-nine minutes.

MAYOR AGAIN URGES FUSION

Plea for City-County Government Merger Made in Annual Message to Council Today. Consolidation of the Los Angeles city and county governments, as several times before advocated by Mayor Cryer, is the main feature of the Mayor's annual message, which will be submitted to the City Council today. The Mayor argues that such unification would be a potent means of reducing the costs of government, eliminating duplication of effort and of promoting harmony and development throughout the rapidly expanding metropolitan area.

Fate of Northcott May be in Jury's Hands Late This Week

DEFENSE TO END BY TOMORROW

Youth Accused of Murder Calls New Group

BY JAMES M. KENDRICK

"Times" Staff Representative RIVERSIDE, Feb. 3. (Exclusive)

The fate of Gordon Stewart Northcott, alleged murderer of small boys on his Wineville chicken ranch, probably will be placed in the hands of the jury in Superior Judge Freeman's court late this week.

This morning young Northcott, who is accused of murdering and butchering Louis and Nelson Winslow, Walter Collins and an unidentified Mexican, said he believes he will be finished with his defense by Tuesday night.

Northcott, who is acting as his own attorney, today continued to rant at the court, which has decided to forestall his combing attempts in his examination of witnesses.

THREAT RIDICULED Northcott's statement that his "sweetheart," Helen Williams, will shoot Sanford Clark on the first opportunity that she has, was ridiculed by officials today. The girl mentioned by Northcott is the one whom he named Friday as his affinity and whose identity he was reluctant to reveal at the close of his testimony while the youth himself was acting as attorney and witness on the stand.

At least a dozen more witnesses were subpoenaed today by the defendant, but if he succeeds as he previously has done officials here doubt that he will make them appear.

Half of the witnesses so far called by Northcott merely have been asked perfunctory questions by the defendant-attorney, who so far has failed to build up a case for himself in his fight to save himself from the gallows.

Northcott today contented himself with reading the transcript of his witness' testimony while he sat on the narrow cot of his County Jail cell. He read law books supplied to him by Herbert Sweetser and at various times laughed out loud at statements he saw in the

A total of $1,002,547.43 in unpaid wages was collected by the State Labor Bureau in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1928, according to a statistical summary of the bureau's work issued yesterday by Deputy Labor Commissioner Barker.

This is an increase of 42.12 per cent over 1927, he said.

During the year 28,568 wage complaints were received, as compared with 26,621 in 1927, a decrease of fifty-three in complaints, despite the increased sum collected.

had charge of business transactions at the temple prior to and during the "kidnaping" and investigation of Mrs. McPherson. Varying stories concerning her attitude toward Judge Hardy and other prominent figures have been related to the committee. Assemblyman Seaton yesterday stated that it will be of importance to learn what course her testimony will take. As she is outside the jurisdiction of the California Legislature it will be necessary for the committee to go to her, and then she may refuse to return to California in the event Judge Hardy is impeached and tried before the California Senate.

MORE TESTIMONY Other testimony regarded as important by the committee is as yet to come from Reginald Tawney, former temple publicity man, and named as one of the "deliverers" who was working on a plan to get criminal charges against Mrs. McPherson and Mrs. Kennedy dismissed. Tawney, it is stated, at first agreed to appear, and then disappeared. The sheriff has been hunting him with a subpoena.

Brother J. W. Arthur, temple book-keeper, and Miss Bernice Morris, who figured in the negotiations with two "kidnapers" also are wanted to testify.

Judge Hardy will resume the stand today. According to his counsel, Joseph Ford and Rex Hardy, he is anxious to deny the statement of Robert W. Brydon, one of the 1928 grand jury, that he (Judge Hardy) while in a crowded hall of the California Legislature he said: "You fellows better lay off this Almee case!"

William H. Carter, foreman of the 1928 grand jury which investigated the "kidnaping," has been summoned by the committee and will be questioned today on various circumstances surrounding the investigation, according to Chairman Little.

NEW MATERIAL The committee, it is understood, has some new matter, hitherto unrevealed, on which to question Judge Hardy, while a number of attorneys, engaged by Mrs. McPherson, have developed inconsistencies in Judge Hardy's testimony concerning his actions during the investigation.

Assemblymen Hornblower and Crowlsey, from Northern California, are remaining over for today's hearing, which is expected to be the last of this sitting of the committee. The other members are Assemblymen Little, Chapman, Sewell and Woolwine. The committee has agreed to listen to arguments on points of law presented by the defense based on the contention that there is no law in the California statutes limiting the conduct of judges.

The committee is required to file a report with the Assembly by the 18th inst. The Assembly then will be called on to vote on the impeachment of Judge Hardy. If impeachment is voted, the trial will be conducted before the Senate, with managers from the Assembly presenting the case.

discussed fusion of air transport with railroad connections. Mr. Holden, who formerly was president of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad, and during the World War was Regional Director of the Railroad Administration, lives in Chicago.

Mrs. Holden's sister, Mrs. John McWilliams, Jr., lives in Pasadena at 1207 South Pasadena avenue. While in Southern California Mrs. Holden and her husband will live at Hotel Raymond, where they have made arrangements to stay two months.

Mr. Holden's ideas concerning the operation of the western railroads had been a matter of deep study in Washington and throughout railroad circles of the country for a number of years. He first advocated a merger of all the railroads in Western America into four major lines, four years ago.

His election to the chairmanship of the executive committee was believed to have been a step toward a huge expansion plan that would solve many of the economic problems faced by the railroads during the last ten years.

"I am out here on considerable business," he said yesterday, "but it does not concern any startling merger. We expect to lay out a program of expansion that will see the Pacific Coast facilities improved. Los Angeles can be assured that it will get its full share of the expansion program."

The rest of the country has been slow in awakening to the enormous growth and possibilities of the West. Only during the last two years has the East realized that all roads must lead to the Pacific Coast.

In Congress right now there is important legislation pending that will remove many obstacles from the path of the railroads of the West.

The air transport situation is in the same state of development as the automobile was five or six years ago. There is little doubt that there will be interlocking mergers of air lines and rail lines in the next few years.

CHRYSTAL PAVING URGED The City Engineer has recommended to the Council that Chrysal street between Riverdale and Elmwood avenues be paved with six-inch concrete pavement, that the width of the roadway be continued at thirty feet and that the work should be included in the Blackstone and Riverdale-avenue improvement district. The matter was referred to the Public Works Committee.

At the close of the war, a German collector revealed that in defiance of orders, that no German should spend his time cultivating luxuries, he had secreted two plants of the astrophium in a cave and cared for them. The seventeen extant plants were produced from the German collection.

The first officers of the Cactus Society, besides President Houghton, are: Mrs. Albert Sherman Hoyt, South Pasadena conservationist, vice-president in charge of the Southern California district; James West of San Rafael, vice-president in charge of the Northern California district; Robert Runyon of Brownsville, Tex., vice-president in charge of the Texas and Oklahoma district; R. E. Willis of 2721 Bellevue street, Los Angeles, secretary, and Mrs. R. T. Greenwell of South Pasadena, treasurer.

SAVANT HONORED At the final organization meeting, Dr. N. L. Britton, director-in-chief of the New York Botanical Gardens, was elected honorary president. Other vice-presidents are scheduled to be named to be in charge of the work in other parts of the United States.

Besides the unrestricted exportation of cactus, the organization will attempt to combat the asserted habit of American cactus wholesalers of hauling more plants to their nurseries than they can care for or hope to sell. More than 100,000 cactus plants are said to rot on these nursery piles annually in this country.

The society will sponsor legislation to protect varieties threatened with extinction and will wage an educational campaign to inform purveyors of varieties that cannot be transplanted without killing them.

Another branch of the organization will study the present and possible utilization of cactus by industry.

The common prickly pear variety, which the mission fathers once used to protect their gardens from prowling Indians, is now used in many ways. A gelatinous substance extracted from the leaves is used in Mexico to manufacture a synthetic rubber which serves for "rubber" heels. In this process, a satisfactory type of varnish is obtained as a by-product and from the red dual pulp from the prickly pear and Burbank spineless a cattle fodder, which is said to be as nutritious as alfalfa, is obtained.

The bark of the Joshua tree, according to a report read at the last meeting, is particularly adapted for surgical spines, while the roots of the century plant have been used for generations in Mexico for the production of tequila.

JUICE MAY SAVE Many superstitions are associated with cactus in the public mind, one of which, according to members of the society, should be exploded. Contrary to popular belief, the barrel cactus contains no well of cool water to save the life of the desert wanderer. If a man dying from thirst in the desert understood the secrets of the barrel cactus, however, he might save his life by squeezing the pulp with stones and sipping the juice thus extracted.

Century plants, despite the popular notion that they bloom once in 100 years, bloom about once in five years, depending upon the amount of water they receive.

Judge Schauer

TWO-JUDGE JOB
When the law does not provide for a divorce in domestic relations cases it is necessary to assign judges to the business of these cases. The increased burden of the cases of one judge to take care of them.
Domestic relations and alimony cases are both going to suffer from this new arrangement, said Judge Schauer. "We will have more cases to investigate each case and more and women will be given an easy break."
Judge Rosenkranz emphasized his policy of regarding a mother as her child's natural guardian.

said Judge Ro-

The Appellate Court recently reversed an action to an act of the

this premise, it was held by the court that the woman had

The celebration was a simple one, according to Mrs. Book, with fam-

the afternoon to pay their respects to the couple. Among the guests there were many pioneer citizens of the city, who, along with Mr. and Mrs. Book have seen it change from

Mrs. Book first came to Los An-

Guest Ranch, with its congenial "do-

please" mode of life. Fashionable Palm Springs is nearby;
but Deep Well Guest Ranch is serene in its own "broad meads" and in by long hedges of brave green trees."
This appealing desert resort makes good use of printed advertising. We have just completed a new folder of twenty-four four-by-nine pages, judicious circulation of which will assure the Guest Ranch a full-up season.
Desert literature is a specialty with us. Among our customers are many of the most popular resort hotels and camp of the Southwest. Not a few avail themselves of the ability and experience of our Service Staff for the preparation of their direct advertising... its planning, writing, illustrating, and supervision. You, too, are invited to use this service.

WED HERE HALF CENTURY AGO
Couple Sees Pueblo Turn to Metropolis
It was called the Fort-street Church.
Mr. Book came here in 1872 and operated a bee ranch in the La Canada Mountains in order to regain his health. Later he moved to Los Angeles, where he met his future wife.
The couple have two children.
At one time he was associated with one of the banks here as appraiser of property, he has been engaged in the real estate business, served as a member of the Los Angeles City Council and of late years has been in the mining business.
Robert H. Book of Turlock and Mrs. Nellie B. Passfield of the Santa Fe Railroad here.

STREET IMPROVEMENT PROTESTS TO BE HEARD
The City Council is scheduled to hear protests today against the ordinance of intention for the improvement of Flex street between Fox and La Bue avenues and of Topanga Canyon avenue between Roscoe and Ventura boulevards. It is understood that the protesters against the latter improvement have agreed to withdraw their protest under certain conditions which will be presented to the Council for approval today. The Council also scheduled to hear protests today against the confirmation of assessments for the improvement of San Fernando Road between the city of San Fernando and the north city boundary of Los Angeles.

Jetta Goudal's Salary Suit to Resume Today
Taking testimony will be resumed before Superior Judge Yankwich today in the trial of the suit for $100,000 back salary brought by Jetta Goudal, motion-picture star, against the Cecil B. De Mille Pictures Corporation.
Miss Goudal asserts the company entered into a contract for her services beginning in 1925 and to run until 1930 at a salary commencing at $750 a week and graduating up to $5000 a week; that in September, 1927, she was wrongfully discharged and her services terminated.
The company contends that Miss Goudal broke the contract by not living up to the terms of the document.
At the closing session of the trial on Friday three directors, David Stein, William K. Howard and J.
Gordon Cooper, who directed the making of pictures in which Miss Goudal took leading roles, testified that the talented actress would become temperamental and refuse to act up to parts to which she was capable of portraying.

Prospectors
Club Formed
by Students Demanding a "B" average in a student specializing in geology, a prospectors' club has been organized at the University of Southern California, with the following Trojan students as officers: Joe Holman, president; Bill Farrand, vice-president; Smith Crouch, secretary, and James C. Tully, treasurer.
Students with "B" or higher who were pledged to the club include Charles Morris, Jack Brown, Harold
Stanley, Milton Smale and Walter
Miller. Honorary pledges include Leslie Lockhart, vice-president of the Rio Grande Oil Company; John Stephens, geologist with the C. C. M. Oil Company; Lawrence Chambers, micro-paleontologist for the Milham Exploration Company; and Fred Vickers, head geologist with the E. J. Milley Oil Company, and formerly of the United States Geological Survey.

THREE TO FACE CASE IN BOOTLEGGING CASE
Accused of having pled a lively bootlegging trade in Hollywood, Orville T. Forrester, Bruce Bannister and Dave Evans are scheduled to appear in United States District Judge James's court. Evans will appear for arraignment and Forrester and Bannister for entry of their pleas.

GIRL ORATORS WILL COMPETE
Catholic School Group Enters
National Contest
Huntington Beach Pupils
Strive for Honors
Principal Writes of Work in Study of Constitution Challenging the "old-fashioned opinion that girls have little interest in matters of government," seven enthusiastic girls of the Los Angeles Catholic Girls' High School are to compete in the Sixth National and Fourth International Oratorical Contest on the Constitution, according to the editor of Western Purple, the school paper.
"We are proud to remember the showing made last year by our representative, Miss Marie Louise Wenig, who attained second place in the district finals," writes Rev.
Thomas Moran of the school. "Competing with various private schools in the city, Miss Wenig was the only girl to win a place in the contest. It is also gratifying to note that school leaders are to be participants and stand ready to encourage all students to study the Constitution and prepare essays."
SCHOOL LEADERS ENTER
Among the entrants are Margaret Keefe, student-body president; Mary Frances Bain, captain of the hockey team; Weaneta Gill, editorial manager of Western Purple; Elizabeth Mary Ryan and Julia Foley, all seniors; Ethel Waters and Peggy Nugent, juniors.
An enthusiastic student was received at oratorical-contest headquarters at the Times yesterday from Huntington Beach High School of which Sidney H. Davidson is principal.
Lloyd Hammond is in charge of the contest there. "We look upon the educational value of the contest as more important than forensic honors," said Mr. Hammond. "About thirty students in the senior government class and twenty in the history class are preparing essays and orations. Many of our students have been doing special reading since last September on the Constitution and collateral subjects and preferred markings are given to students who do special reading on the Constitution and who prepare orations of accepted standard. This work is in addition to text-book requirements and puts the student in line for preferred markings. Among other assignments students must read and prepare questionnaires upon the second chapter of Bever-idge's 'State of the Nation.'"
MEALS FOR WINNERS
C. A. Johnson, chairman of the board of trustees of Huntington Beach, sponsors the contest each year by giving medals to the winners in the local elimination.
The Garden Grove High School,
Leroy L. Doug, principal, had committed itself to contest on "Good Citizenship," sponsored by the Garden Grove Women's Club. As the school is small and has few orators, it was felt that time could not be given to both the local and the oratorical contest on the Constitution.
Saturday, however, the school entered and an effort is being made to induce the Women's Club to permit and regard the Constitutional competition as a substitute for their contest.

Letters and resolutions have been commended to come to the City Council commending the action of the Health Department in giving physical examinations to persons employed in the handling or distribution of food. More than sixty such communications have already been received by the Council.
In addition the Council has received a letter from Belle Wood Comstock, chairman of the public health department of the Federated Women's Clubs of Los Angeles, calling attention to the necessity for the Council passing an ordinance for the examination of food handlers. This letter was referred to the Council's Health and Sanitation Committee while the others were sent to the Public Welfare Committee, which now has before it the resolution introduced by Councilman Foster which censures the Health Department for undertaking the examination of food handlers without authorization

by the Council.

PHONE BRINGS SHOCK
Wife in Divorce Plea Tells How She Learned of Husband's Trespass
When everybody was getting ready to ring the old year out Mrs.
Reedy received a ring on the telephone, she testified, and a strange voice said:
"This is your husband's sweetheart. He's been straying from the fold a little. I'm through with him so I'm giving him back to you as a New Year's present."
"It was then I discovered my husband was untrue to me," Mrs.

Reedy declared. "I do not want him. I would rather have a divorce."
The decree was granted.

SOCIETY

Coming as a surprise to many friends of the Southland is the announcement made by Mr. and Mrs. J. McDonald of 450 East Adams street of the betrothal of their daughter, Genevieve, to Warren H. Birdsell, son of Mrs. Margaret Birdsell of New York City.

Miss McDonald is a native of Los Angeles and is very popular both in social and philanthropic circles. Since finishing at St. Mary's Academy here and St. Mary's College at Notre Dame, Ind., she has devoted much of her time to social work. Mr. Birdsell was born in New York City and claims Columbia University as his alma mater. He is associated in business here, and after the wedding this spring will bring his bride back to make this their future home.

Many lovely parties are being arranged in honor of this attractive bride-elect, among the hostesses being Mrs. Marcus Eaketh Orshan (Rosario Dockweiler), who is planning a bridge party next Thursday; Mrs. Iryin Kaiser (Florence Mitchell), who later will give a luncheon and bridge with Miss McDonald as special guest; Mrs. Eaketh Orshan, John Francis Dockweiler, who is planning a luncheon and bridge for her next Monday afternoon.

For Bride-Elect

Miss Evelyn Kingston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Charles Kingston, whose wedding with Donald Greenwood is to be an event of the 19th inst., is being much feted before the wedding, among the affairs of recent date being the buffet luncheon given last Tuesday by Mrs. Oscar A. Trippe, Jr., at her home in North Orange Drive, fourteen guests being bidden.

Wednesday afternoon Miss Frances Crandall gave a beautifully appointed bridge, followed by an elaborate tea, the affair taking place at her home in North La Palms avenue, and eight intimate friends of the honor guest being bidden.

Saturday evening Miss Suzanne Stephens gave a dinner party at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Morye Wicks Stephens, in Kings Road, honoring Miss Kingston and Mr. Greenwood, and tomorrow afternoon Mrs. Harry Slater will give a luncheon at the Beverly-Wilshire Hotel in Wilshire Boulevard for Miss Kingston.

Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Potthast celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Wednesday, January 30, with a reception and evening party at their home in West Sycamore street, sixty guests being bidden. Among them were Mrs. Gustav Meyer, Mrs. Louise Manigault, Mrs. Zehnder and Mrs. Rosa Ruhl, all of whom attended the wedding half a century ago.

The marriage of Miss Caroline Fick to Henry Potthast was solemnized January 30, 1879, in Liberty, Ill., and there have been eight children born to them, two daughters, Mrs. R. M. Spicer, living in San Fernando, and Mrs. Grant Butler at 4019 West Sixth street here.

The others make their home in Illinois. J. W. Potthast is in Plainville, Charles Potthast, Mrs. C. A. Johnson, Mrs. P. E. Hoyt, Mrs. George B. Bryant in Hull and Mrs. Nelson Macklin in Liberty.

Two daughters, one son and one grandson motored from Illinois to attend the golden wedding reception, and an enjoyable program of orchestral music, readings and vocal solos was given during the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Potthast came from their Illinois home to Los Angeles twelve years ago.

Leave for North

Dr. and Mrs. George A. Hulett, the former of the Princeton University faculty, who have been guests of Dr. Mary Sinclair Crawford, dean of women at the University of Southern California, during their sojourn in Los Angeles, left Saturday for the north, where they will be guests of Leland Stanford, Jr., at University.

Mr. and Mrs. Hulett were entertained for Dr. and Mrs. Sinclair with a delightful dinner party for sixteen guests at the Women's University Club recently.

Season the prepared fillets with salt and paprika, roll in flour then in beaten egg that has been diluted with three tablespoons of water, place then in three bread crumbs, place in a frying pan, fry until brown on both sides, remove to a hot platter, garnish with parsley, slices of lemon and ripe olives.

CORNMEAL WAFFLES
Place two cups of water in a saucepan, add one teaspoonful of salt, and bring to a boil, gradually stir in one cupful of cornmeal that has been mixed with one cupful of cold water, keep the mixture boiling constantly while the meal is being added, then cover and let cook over boiling water stirring occasionally for one hour. Beat in one-fourth of a cupful of shortening and pour into a bowl. Then cool, beat in one-half a cupful of sour cream or buttermilk, two-thirds of a cupful of sweet milk, add two cups of flour with one-fourth of a teaspoonful of soda, and two tea-spoonfuls of baking powder and beat into the first mixture, beat in the well-beaten yolks of two eggs and fold in the well-beaten whites, bake at once on a hot waffle iron.

Roll in flour and brown well in bacon fat. Add a little of the liquid in which the liver has been boiled, cover and simmer until the liver is tender. When done remove to a platter, season the liquid with the sauce and pour over the liver. To make the dressing cut the bacon in cubes, fry until crisp, add the other ingredients and a little water to moisten.

Mash well one medium-sized canful of peaches, add one-quarter the amount of sugar that there is peach juice and pulp, add to them one-half of a cupful of lemon juice, one-fourth of a cupful of lemon juice and simmer until thick, stirring constantly. Cut slices of white bread very thin, remove the crusts and butter the bread, place a layer of the bread in a baking dish, while still hot, spread the peach mixture, give the dish a good shaking, then place a layer of peaches. Pack firmly, place in the ice box over night, unmold, slice and serve with cream.

ECHO MAY WARN FLYER OF DANGER

Depth-Finder Inventor to Adapt Principle to Use of Aviators

Experiments begin today to adapt to aviation uses the ocean acoustic-method depth finder perfected by Prof. L. P. DeLassio of the physics department, University of California at Los Angeles.

His success in sounding sea depths induced the Guggenheim Foundation to place $2000 at his disposal for the purpose of ascertaining whether his principle can be applied to air navigation. The goal sought is to perfect an altimeter which assures safe navigation for aviators in the densest fog and which records a plane's actual altitude with accuracy.

The depth finder now used in the Navy employs an entirely new principle in measuring underwater depths and in ascertaining submarine navigators of their approach to rocks or other elevations. Prof. DeLassio was endeavoring to adapt this principle to an altimeter for aircraft. Such an instrument would inform a pilot of his altitude above the nearest surface. Approach to a mountain in fog would release a siren warning automatically set to sounding by the proximity to a plane surface.

Prof. DeLassio first will investigate sound spectra produced by passenger and military planes and will study means of eliminating engine noises. He will investigate the sound energy available from whistles, sirens, etc., after reflection from typical surfaces, with a view of picking the most suitable source for the altimeter's purpose. Then he will construct an experimental altimeter, providing the preliminary results justify it.

This undertaking necessitates extensive flying and operation with airplane mechanics. In this, Prof. DeLassio has been assured co-operation of various aviation concerns.

Dawn of a New Era

"The finest brains today are engaged in devising new means of rendering service."

(From the book "Standards of Business" by Elwood E. Rice)

THE year 1929 witnesses the dawn of a new era in transportation—the era of forty-eight hour service, by air and rail, from coast to coast. Thus do the railroads and trunk-lines-of-the-air cooperate, to meet the demand for better service and greater speed.

The progressive, far-sighted manufacturers who are members of the Rice Leaders of the World Association also meet the challenge of changing-needs. Their products and service are always as perfect as modern knowledge and skill can devise. At the same time they adhere to the unchanging principles defined in the following

Qualifications for Membership:

- HONOR: A recognized reputation for fair and honorable business dealings.
- QUALITY: An honest product, of quality truthfully represented.
- STRENGTH: A responsible and substantial financial standing.
- SERVICE: A recognized reputation for conducting business in prompt and efficient manner.

The Association's Emblem of Business Character portrays these principles by word and symbol. Without reflecting upon concerns not enjoying membership, successful, old-established manufacturers display this Emblem, to show that they are abreast with the best in up-to-date procedure, and are cooperating to hasten the dawn of a new era in the business world, based on character and fair dealing.

Overrides Coolidge's

Wishes on New Ships by

Vote of 54 to 28

Passage Today by

Upper House Viewed

as Assured

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4. (P)—

overriding the expressed wish of President Coolidge, the Senate by a vote of 54 to 28 refused late today to ratify the stipulation that

the construction of the new ships shall be laid down on July 1, 1931.

The vote went to smash on the amendment with a Democrat, Sen.

Harmon, of Mississippi, offering

the amendment to give the Senate a free rein over the naval program, and twenty-six Republicans against the Coolidge resolution.

The measure of the dominant idea in the House last year,

which was made known at the time that if the time limitation clause were eliminated and the Executive were given a blank over the naval program would send up recommendations of the House at once.

PROVISIONS IN QUESTION

The Senate stood by the provision requiring that work on the ships shall be started during the next three fiscal years, beginning with this year, and ending July 1, next. As a result, the vote it is possible the measure may be approved without change, as it was passed a year ago by the House. If this had been done it will be "possible" to the bill to the White

House's conference, if the House

representatives should accept a minor amendment.

After it had refused to strike out

the stipulation, the Senate and down another proposal by

Sen. Harmon, who had the proposal for a year the operation of the naval program. This was discarded without even a vote.

The amendment of Senator Harmon, which brought the first and will vote on the bill, would provide that the President "be permitted to undertake prior to

1932" the construction of the ships. This would have left it open for the President as to how ships should have been built.

Senators, including

Sen. Curtis of Kansas, the leader, voted for the amendment with eleven Democrats and the former-laborer, Senator of Minnesota. The twenty-seven Republicans who turned against the amendment were supported by

Democrats, including

Sen. Robinson of Arkansas, the leader.
